

Week 6. Story Quiz.

Divide the children into two teams. The two teams stand opposite each other and a chair is positioned midway between the two teams. The question master directs a question to the first child in each team. If they know the answer, they race to the chair, sit down and win a point for a correct answer. If they get to the seat first and DON'T know the correct answer, the point is awarded to the other team. Repeat with the other questions.
